

Where else but Melbourne!

Destination: Melbourne

"Nature has done everything for Sydney, man nothing; man has done everything for Melbourne, nature nothing – just look around"

You walk in the CBD and you one thing that catches your eyes is the high buildings and busy streets but the second thing that you see is, that it is full of cars – parked or driving. If you ever see the numberplates, "Victoria – The Place to Be" is printed on it. This should be converted to Melbourne. Rated the most liveable city in the world Melbourne truly lives up to its expectations as it has an abundant amount of tourist destinations and precincts. Tourists pour into Melbourne each day and when they leave they are definitely not disappointed.

Transport is a spectacle. One daily ticket let's you travel all over Melbourne using the tram, train and bus system that brings you everywhere. You didn't imagine a minute cardboard ticket did that – did you? That is just a taste of what Melbourne is like.

To the side, nature has not completely ignored Melbourne. More than a quarter of the city resides in parks and colourful gardens. Though here again, the spectacular design and creation of the Royal Botanic Gardens is just one of the stunning gardens to visit in Melbourne

Temperature is no surprise. All year round temperature is not freezing cold or boiling hot. The season comes when temperature is around 30 degrees and people enjoy the summer and beach and when it comes to snow time, you see the public filing in at the mountains enjoying the cold weather by skiing and staying overnight at resorts.

Melbourne may have greyer skies, and a muddy river in view of a eye-catching harbour, but no matter what - Melbourne's citizens have built and created man-made delights. Some of the cultural things inside Melbourne include theatres, music places, street sculptures, fashion, and other forms of artistic expression increase, alongside a international mix of cafés, restaurants, and pubs around Melbourne.

Overall, Melbourne is booming in the Tourism industry and is a place to visit.
