A02 -Recommending A Quote

- I am going to recommend that john buys the desktop Pc in quote #2 because it is quite cheap (£781.45); it has a 6 GB ram and an i5 processor with 3.2GHz. Quote #2 compared to Quote #1, is much better because the desktop pc in quote 1 is £429.99, it only has a 4GB ram and a 3.2GHz processor (i3). Both of these computers have a 1.5TB hard drive but the computer in Quote #1 comes with a bundle for only £580. Although Quote #1 comes with a bundle I am still going to choose quote #2 because the overall features have more functions than the other computer for example it has a 6GB RAM and the other quote only has a 4GB RAM.

- For the monitor I am going to recommend Quote #2 because the size is only 1" smaller than the monitor in Quote #1 and it is £52 cheaper. They are both fully HD (1080p) and there is still such a big price difference. So that is why I recommend John buys the monitor in quote #2.
- The movie making software that I am going to choose is the one in Quote #1 because it includes two programs (Adobe Photoshop elements and Adobe Premiere elements), the program in Quote #2 (Corel Digital studio) is overall rated worse than the one in quote #1. The program in Quote #1 has more features, which is why I am recommending that John chooses the software in Quote #1.
- I am going to choose the publication software in quote #2 because the one in quote #1 comes with the bundle of the desktop pc and I have decided not to buy that bundle.
- The speakers I am going to recommend is the speakers in Quote #2 because the ones in quote #1 come with the bundle of the desktop pc and I recommended to John that the Desktop Pc in Quote #2 is more worth it. The speakers are only £20 and have very high quality sound.
- The keyboard & mouse in quote #2 is the one that I recommend because it is wireless and the one in Quote #1 comes with the bundle which I recommend John doesn't buy. The keyboard & mouse set is £47, but it is still worth the price.
- The printer I am going to recommend is the one in quote #2 because the other one comes with the bundle that I am not going to buy. Both the printers are ink jet printers so both the printers ink are cheap and the ink price ranges from £10 -£20.
- Both the headphones come with a microphone but the one in Quote #1 is £5 more expensive. Overall the quality of the one in quote #1 looks better so I am going to decide to recommend the headphones in Quote #1, even though they are more expensive, they are worth the money.
- I am going to recommend that John buys the webcam in quote 1 because it has 720p HD recording compared to the other quote which has a 2 megapixel camera. The webcam in quote 1 is better quality and slightly cheaper.
- I recommend that John buys the memory stick in quote 2 because it has more memory and it is only £8. The memory stick in quote 1 comes with the bundle which I am not going to recommend John buys.
- The music making software in quote #1 is the one that I recommend because overall it offers more features and is much cheaper.
- I am going to recommend to John that he uses Norton Antivirus (Quote 2) because it is £10 cheaper and it lasts forever compared to Kapersky which expires after 1 year.
