

Cumulative frequency: birth weights

Choose at least one answer.

- ☐ a. 90% of full-term babies weigh more than 4150g
- ☐ b. 20% of premature babies weigh more than 2600g
- ☐ c. The 30th percentile weight of premature babies is 3300g
- ☒ d. 10% of full-term babies weigh more than 4150g
- ☐ e. The 30th percentile weight of full-term babies is 2800g
- ☒ f. 40% of premature babies weigh less than 2900g

15

Using the cumulative frequency curve displayed here, what is the median occupancy rate for this hotel? (Write your answer to the nearest whole number of percent.) You may have to make the window bigger to see the whole graph.